Celebrating the Holidays

BY MARGARET O'KELLEY

December 7 found Huron Township abundantly full of holiday cheer. The evening began with a religious candle light ceremony at the Nativity placed at the Cerni Building in New Boston, both the Nativity and the event are sponsored by the Concerned Citizens Coalition.

Concerned Citizens Coalition President Yvonne Schoedel made the welcoming address and Father Wytral delivered the invocation. Father Wytral has delivered the invocation since the onset of the Nativity. The Carols were chosen to enhance the theme, "Keeping Christ In Christmas." During this holiday season The Concerned Citizens coalition dedicated that glorious Nativity to the citizens of Huron Town.

The participants of the Nativity Event caroled, "Joy to the World" as they strolled the Village Streets on their way to the second event of the evening, the Township Celebration, sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Commission.

The program began with Chairperson Mike Annetzberger addressing the audience and wishing all well. An introduction of public officials in attendance was made. Those in attendance were Trustees Nora Adkins and Larry O'Kelley and Clerk Dawnette Bowers, Supervisor John Mitchell addressed the group concerning the State of the Township and concluded his remarks by wishing everyone a Happy Holiday.

The winners of the Township Coloring Contest were announced and the first place winners were Megan Hardecki and Eric Manning, in second place were Alexis Steagall and Randy LaSage. These winning second graders were given the honor of lighting the Township Tree. Coloring sheets were given to all second graders, both public and parochial, in the Township which produced approximately 40 entries.

The Huron High School Band played the Star Spangled Banner and, when joined by the audience in song, provided an abundance of holiday music. As a matter of fact while they were singing, "Santa Claus is Coming to Nativity Scene at the Cerni Building, which is sponsored by the Coalition for Concerned Citizens.

Town," he and Mrs. Claus arrived on a fire truck.

All were invited to the V.F.W. for hot chocolate or coffee and cookies. This was also a special time to visit with Santa and Mrs. Claus and receive a candy cane treat.

The refreshments were served by the Seniors and were paid for by the Concerned Citizens Coalition.

Andrew Black let Santa and Mrs. Claus know what he wanted for Christmas.

First Place Coloring Contest Winners are Eric Manning and Megan Hardecki.

Second Place Coloring Contest Winners are Randy LaSage and Alexis Steagall.

Board Approves New Contract for Fire Chief

BY MARGARET E. O'KELLEY

At the December 10th Township Board meeting, Fire Chief David Russow was given a two-year contract to continue as our fire chief.

Township attorney Kevin Foley presented the two-page contract and informed the Board the contract was the result of negotiations of the township's negotiating committee and Mr. Russow. He went on to say the contract was retroactive to July 2003 when the old contract expired.

He said paragraph four provided for his weekly hours to be increased eight hours to 20 hours. His salary would be raised accordingly from $15,000 a year to $30,000 per year. He said the second year provided for a $1000 raise to $31,000. The attorney also indicated the chief would continue to be paid for his "on call" 24 hours a day duties and paid according to the schedule for all fire fighters.

He concluded his remarks by stating the retirement fund contribution from the Township was reduced.

Trustee O'Kelley asked who had the authority to approve the chief's attendance to local, state and federal conferences. The attorney replied that by contract, it was up to the chief.

Trustee O'Kelley told The Weekly that during a lull in the meeting, the chief told him he tried to keep his conferences to local and State of Michigan conferences.

A Teacher's Gift

Great News! Sherry's Academy of Dance is proud to report three more dancers assuring us that dreams are possible. To see our students using their talents is the greatest gift a teacher can receive.

Taylor Iott from Huron Township was chosen for a walk-on role with the Rockettes at the Fox Theater on December 16th at the 11:00 a.m. show. Taylor is in the 5th grade at St. Stephens in New Boston.

Emily Lowinski of Dearborn Heights performed at the half-time Thanksgiving Day show for the Detroit Lions with Mary J. Blige. Stardom is not new to Emily. She will be going to Orlando in December to compete for American Dance Idol.

Jacqueline Wood, age 10, of Huron Township is currently performing with the Cincinnati Ballet in the Nutcracker at the prestigious Detroit Opera House. This is Jacqueline's second year dancing the part as a ginger kid.

As these young performers follow their dreams, some of our former students come to mind.

Lindsay Matyok of Trenton was the first Clara with the Rockettes when they opened in Detroit at the Fox Theater. Lindsay is continuing her dance career at Point Park, a performing arts college in Pennsylvania. The family talent doesn't stop with Lindsay. Her sister, Whitney Matyok also performed as Clara with the Rockettes in Detroit and Mexico City.

Brandy Blaha of New Boston received a four-year scholarship to Wayne State University. Brandy and long-time friend Meghan Conway, of Romulus, are currently dancing with the Wayne State Dance Company and recently performed in "Dancing Golden Feet."

And let's not forget our boys! Jeremy Gaynier of South Rockwood and Jeffry Wood of Huron Township have also had their time in the spotlight. Jeremy performed for an entire season with the Rockettes at the Fox Theater and Jeffry had a walk-on role for one special performance.

To all our sponsors and friends thank you for sharing a great year with us! From Sherry's Academy, we hope your holiday season is a joyous one!

Miller Elementary Second Grade's Christmas Spirit

The second grade classes at Miller Elementary in New Boston recently held a bake sale to raise money for the community.

All four classes and their teachers; Ms. Bartholomew, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Mykeloff, and Ms. Rockwell, contributed their time and baked goods for the event. Items were sold for a quarter to the entire student body during the noon lunchtimes.

Parents baked, manned the tables and collected the money for this special project. The students raised $300.00 on the bake sale. On Monday, December 1st, the second graders presented the money to two local groups that make and distribute baskets to local families. Mr. R.P. Lilly represented the Huron Township Rotary, and Mrs. Barbara Nowitzke accepted the money on behalf of the Huron School District Teamsters.

Summit Academy News You Can Use

Use homemade gifts to build reading, writing & math skills. Whether you're giving a holiday gift or a "just because" gift, here is a fun idea that incorporates learning at the same time!

4. Cut fabric disks that will cover the lids and drape one inch around.
5. Measure an 18 inch length of ribbon or yarn.
6. Write out the directions on a recipe card or type it on the computer.
7. Decorate the card with crayons, markers, stickers, etc.

Tips from Tina

Christmas Ornament Hooks

1. Unbend the middle "bend" of a paper clip so that you still have a loop on either end. one for the ornament and one for the tree.

2. Put a twist tie through the loop of the ornament, twist the ends around each other, then make a hook and hang it over the branch, or just put the twist tie through the decoration loop and wrap the ends around the tree branch and twist the ends together.

Christmas Souvenir Ornaments

Instead of buying dust-catching knickknacks as souvenirs, buy Christmas ornaments unique to the area you visit on vacation. You'll have a very personalized Christmas tree, wonderful memories of vacations when you decorate, and not a lot of things to dust throughout the year.

I would like to wish everyone a Very Merry Christmas!

Chicken Breasts in Rosemary Cream

4 boneless skinless Chicken Breasts seasoned with salt and garlic powder

1/4 cup Butter

1 lg. Shallot - finely chopped

1/4 cup White Wine

1 1/2 cup Chicken Broth

1 Tbs. Dried Rosemary

1 cup Sour Cream

2 Tbs. Flour

Salt and White Pepper to taste

Heat 2 Tbs. Butter in a large skillet. Brown seasoned chicken breasts on both sides. Remove and keep warm. Add the remaining 2 Tbs. butter to the pan. saute shallots for 2 minutes. Add wine, broth and rosemary. Adjust salt and white pepper to your taste. Return chicken to pan, cover and simmer 15 minutes. In the meantime mix the flour into the sour cream and let it stand at room temp. Whisk the sour cream/flour into the sauce until smooth (remove the chicken if you need to when whisking in the sour cream). Simmer gently until heated and begins to thicken. Do not bring to a rolling boil.

Serve with a Pinot Noir.

Good sides are Rice or Egg Noodles

Al Fresco

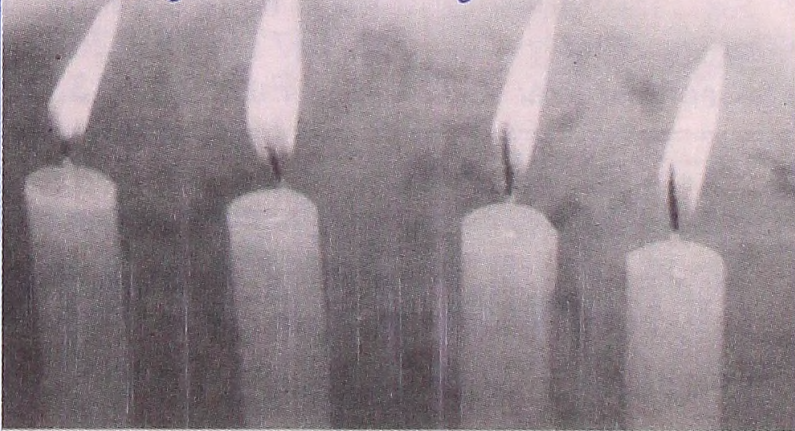

Georgette Heron-Willoughby

This week I have another great pairing of food and wine. This time the selection is a chicken dish that has the savory taste of rosemary and the wine is a Pinot Noir that finishes with a hint of pepper. Some of you may recognize Pinot Noir as a red wine and wonder why it's paired with a chicken dish. Well, I asked the opinion of some very discriminating palates in a local chapter of a national wine group and a large majority were overwhelmed by the marriage of flavors
